

CONTENTS OF VOLUME 71

Page

| | |
|--|-------------------|
| Alexander Garden and George Whitefield: The Significance of Revivalism in South Carolina, 1738, 1741. William Howland Kenney III | 1 |
| South Carolina Federalists and the Origins of the Nullification Movement. George C. Rogers, Jr. | 17 |
| Chief Medical Officers of the South Carolina Militia. Joseph I. Waring | 33 |
| Charleston in the 1850's: As Described by British Travelers. Ivan D. Steen | 36 |
| Josias and Martha DuPré and Some of Their Descendants. Petrona Royall McIver | 46 |
| Reviews | 61, 124, 197, 284 |
| Notes | 65, 132, 217, 286 |
| Archives News | 69, 136, 229, 292 |
| An Editorial Comment | 75 |
| The First Fundamental Constitutions. Mattie Erma E. Parker | 78 |
| The South Carolina Archives Copy of the Fundamental Constitutions, dated July 21, 1669. Transcribed by Ruth S. Green | 86 |
| The First South Carolinians. St. Julien R. Childs | 101 |
| The Naval Career of Joseph West. St. Julien R. Childs | 109 |
| St. Giles' Seigniori: The Earl of Shaftesbury's Carolina Plantation. Daniel W. Fagg, Jr. | 117 |
| John Tobler's Description of South Carolina (1753). Translated and edited by Walter L. Robbins | 141 |
| His Majesty's Ships on the Carolina Station. Commander W. E. May | 162 |
| "The Grand Fabric of Republicanism," A Scotsman Describes South Carolina, 1810-1811. Edited by Raymond A. Mohl | 170 |
| The Deas-Thomson Papers in Australia. John Hammond Moore | 189 |
| "Cotton Ed Smith"—Showman or Statesman?. Daniel W. Hollis .. | 235 |
| John Tobler's Description of South Carolina (1754). Translated and edited by Walter L. Robbins | 257 |
| McCabe's Impression of the Bombardment of Charleston, 1863. Claude C. Sturgill and Charles L. Price | 266 |
| The Presbyterian Clergy in South Carolina and the American Revolution. Durward T. Stokes | 270 |
| The Lineage of Daniel Deupree (1768-1848) | 283 |